City Map and Maps of the Universities (flip brochure)    77
With its 161.53 m, the Ulm Minster has the world's highest church steeple.

„IN ULM, UM ULM UND UM ULM HERUM“… is a German tongue twister (literally: „In Ulm, around Ulm and all around Ulm“), which is very well known all over Germany.

There is a lot to discover in Ulm and Neu-Ulm. Beer gardens and parks are very attractive and inviting, especially during summer. In addition, the twin cities offer many cultural events and institutions along with great shopping opportunities and party locations.

The Danube river and the Swabian Alb with many touristic destinations are located close to Ulm. From the steeple of the Ulm minster, you have a breathtaking view of the twin cities. If the weather is clear, you can even see the Alps. These mountains are the ideal place for skiing and snowboarding in winter time and very popular with climbers and hikers in summer. Both the Alps and Lake Constance are only a one-hour car-ride away. Bigger cities with airports, like Munich and Stuttgart, are reachable within the same time.
Ulm and Neu-Ulm

Two cities – One cultural centre – One experience

With a total of 180,000 inhabitants, the Swabian twin cities are neither overwhelmingly big nor too crowded. Everything is close by and will seem familiar in no time. The Danube river officially divides the two federal states Baden-Württemberg and Bavaria. Ulm, with 120,000 inhabitants the larger of the two cities, is located in Baden-Württemberg and directly borders the smaller Bavarian city of Neu-Ulm on the other side of the Danube river. The two municipal authorities work hand in hand in many sectors. They have grown into a comprehensive economic and cultural space and form the centre of the region between Allgäu and the Swabian Alb.

The Stadthaus at the Münsterplatz, a postmodern building close to the gothic minster.

Landmark of Neu-Ulm, the Wasserturm (water tower).
Ulm is an old city, whereas Neu-Ulm is relatively young and drawn up as the modern counterweight to Ulm. This fact determines the character of the two cities. In Ulm, the former Free Imperial City, you can find the romantic Fisherman’s and Tanners’ Quarter with its old houses, alleyways, air of medieval times and of course the world’s highest church steeple (161.53 m). Moreover, relics of the city wall, ancient towers and fortifications are also worth a visit. Especially appealing to tourists is the historical city hall of Ulm with its astronomical clock. The history of Ulm is still alive in many festivals and traditions like the fishermen’ competition on the Danube river, the Danube festival as well as the Schwörwoche (Oath Week), a celebration of one of Europe’s oldest city constitutions. The latter is the biggest spectacle in and around Ulm.

Famous people, such as the physicist and Nobel Prize laureate Albert Einstein and the Scholl siblings, were born in Ulm. Hans and Sophie Scholl are known as members of the resistance against the Nazi regime. In 1943, the two students were sentenced to death for the distribution of pamphlets against Hitler and his war in Munich.

Besides cinemas, theatres and museums, Ulm and Neu-Ulm offer a broad range of leisure time activities: rowing, boat trips and ice-skating are only a few of your options. In summer, quarry lakes in the city surroundings invite for a swim and the Ulmer Zelt (Ulm Tent) offers a wide entertainment programme with political cabaret, comedy, rock and jazz. The open air concerts on the Münsterplatz have become famous for their live acts during the Oath Week. Afterwards, you can explore many bars and clubs in Ulm to turn night into day.

New in Ulm or Neu-Ulm?

Are you going to pursue a degree (Bachelor/Master) in Ulm or Neu-Ulm? Would you like to have someone to advise you personally and individually about college life and life in Ulm? If so, you should consider joining the Buddy Programme.

A buddy is a student who helps you during the first two semesters of your studies with things such as filling out forms, finding your way around campus and the city as well as making suggestions on how to spend your free time. At the same time, you and your buddy have the opportunity to not only learn each other’s language and culture, but also to share your experiences abroad.

Moreover, there are regular meetings („Stammtisch“) and common events for all international and German students taking part in the Buddy Programme, so you can get to know many nice people and make some new friends.

3.4 Records of Study at German Universities

The European Credit Transfer System - ECTS (Especially Important for Exchange Students)

ECTS is the European Credit Transfer System, which has been introduced in order to ease the international acceptance of study credits. They can be transferred from one university to another within Europe. Each course will give you a specific amount of credits, which reflect the number of working hours you have to invest. You receive credits for all components of the curriculum, including your courses, study related work placements and theses. Furthermore, ASQ (Additive Schlüsselqualifikation, additive key qualification) or key qualification points enable students to acquire competence beyond their technical training.

Types of Courses

- V – Vorlesung: lecture held by a professor
- Ü – Übung: course to theoretically practice the subject matter
- S – Seminar: course with active participation by the students
- L – Labor: practical application of the subject matter

Furthermore, you usually have to do one or several work placements (external practical semester at Ulm University of Applied Sciences and the University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm) during your studies in Ulm/Neu-Ulm. During your work placement, you can gain work experience in the field of your studies over the course of several weeks or months.

The Grading Scale at German Universities:

- Grade 1.0 to 1.5: very good
- Grade 1.6 to 2.5: good
- Grade 2.6 to 3.5: satisfactory
- Grade 3.6 to 4.0: sufficient
- Grade 4.1 to 5.0: fail

Credits are not the same as grades. Credits are a quantitative measure of your study input, whereas grades are a qualitative measure of your study output. You will receive credits only if you pass a course successfully (grade 4.0 or better).
3.5 Student Services (Studierendenwerk)

Services offered by the Studierendenwerke Ulm and Augsburg:

- Social care and counseling
- Financial advice and BAföG
- Catering at the universities
- Housing

wohnen@studierendenwerk-ulm.de wohnen@studentenwerk-augsburg.de

The Studierendenwerk Ulm is responsible for all students of Ulm University and Ulm University of Applied Sciences. The Studentenwerk Augsburg is in charge of the students of the University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm.

The Studierendenwerke take care of the important social infrastructure at the universities. This is funded by the Studierendenwerk fee, which all students have to contribute to. As non-profit organisations, the Studierendenwerke can offer their services at an optimal and fair cost performance ratio. The Studierendenwerke manage cafeterias and canteens (Mensa) as well as numerous student residences in Ulm. In addition, they run kindergartens for students’ children.

3.6 International Student Identity Card (ISIC)

The International Student Identity Card is issued by the Studierendenwerk Ulm at the Info-Point (foyer in front of the Mensa) and at the Büroreferat (Office of the Studierendenvertretung, N26/320) of Ulm University. You can also get the International Student Identity Card at the office of the Verfasste Studierendenschaft of Ulm University of Applied Sciences in room C029a. Please bring your passport/identity card, a photograph of you (2.5 x 3.0 cm), your student ID card and €15. The International Student Identity Card is accepted as proof of student status in about 130 countries and offers various benefits.
3.7 Student ID

At all universities in Ulm and Neu-Ulm, the student ID or campus card is an electronic chip card that serves many purposes. Because of its useful features, it is helpful to you from the very first day.

Functions of the student ID card (chip card/campus card) within the universities in general:

- Identification as a member of the university
- Library card
- Print and copy card
- Cash card – after charging money, you can use it in the Mensa, cafeterias and for several drink and snack machines
- Use at the self-serve terminals to change your address
- As a ticket for public transportation (including night busses) after 6.00 p.m. Monday to Friday, all day on weekends and public holidays - without the purchase of an additional ticket

4.2 Health Insurance

Compulsory health insurance

- All students in Germany must have health insurance (from a private or public health insurance company). Without a valid health insurance policy, you cannot enrol at any university in Germany!
- Since January 2015, the monthly rates for students consist of a standard basic amount, a private nursing insurance amount and an individual amount set by the respective health insurance company. Therefore, the amount students have to pay varies slightly – depending on the individual amount of their health insurance company. On average, the monthly health insurance contribution is about €90.

Exceptions:

- Students over the age of 30
- Students who have already completed their 14th subject-related semester (Fachsemester)
- PhD students
- Students who additionally work more than 20 hours per week
- Students who are entitled to family health insurance (until the age of 25 some students are included in their parents’ health insurance; married students: only one spouse needs to pay for health insurance, the other spouse is then entitled to family health insurance)
These students have to take out a private health insurance or a voluntary insurance policy ("freiwillige Versicherung") at a public insurance. The monthly rates for a voluntary insurance will be higher than the ones for a student health insurance. Rates for private health insurances can differ significantly from company to company.

Students from countries which have a Social Security Agreement with Germany

All students from EU countries, countries of the European Economic Area (EEA) and countries which have a social security agreement with Germany (e.g. Bosnia and Herzegovina, Macedonia, Serbia, Tunisia, Turkey) do not necessarily need to take out a health insurance policy in Germany. If they are for example covered by family health insurance in their home country, they only need to present proof of such an insurance and/or get an EHIC (European Health Insurance Card) from their respective insurance company. They can then apply for an exemption from compulsory health insurance at any public health insurance company in Germany.

Students who would like to use their health insurance from their home country in Germany

All other students with private health insurance in their home country need to bring a confirmation in English or German stating that it covers all costs in case of medical treatment. With this document they can then be exempted from the obligatory health insurance by any German public health insurance company. A travel insurance is not sufficient for this purpose.

Public health insurance companies

There are various public health insurance companies in Ulm and Neu-Ulm. You can freely choose your insurance company. The Techniker Krankenkasse offers an „on Campus“ service during the semester and the orientation weeks:

4.3 Other Types of Insurances

ACCIDENT INSURANCE
As a student in Germany, you are automatically covered by an accident insurance in your university as well as on the way to and from college. The Studierendenwerk provides an additional accident insurance in your leisure time, during work placements or other preparatory activities for your studies outside the university if such an accident leads to disability or death. This also applies for any such activities abroad. For further information, please refer to Link (in German only!). Normally, you also have an accident insurance when you are working during the semester, the semester break or your laboratory courses. These contributions are paid by your employer.

LIABILITY INSURANCE
In addition to health insurance, we recommend taking out a private liability insurance policy. It covers compensations in case of any damages you caused accidentally (e.g. by your bike) or partly the loss of your flat/room key.

If you have any questions concerning health insurance or any other type of insurance in Germany, please contact your International Office or one of the insurance companies in Ulm/Neu-Ulm.

TK CampusTeams are at service for students

Contacting your health insurance will become easier and more direct now. With its campus teams, Techniker Krankenkasse (TK) is going to offer even more service to students. No matter if you meet TK during the TK service day or on campus for a personal dialogue, questions regarding your health insurance will be answered directly.

Michél Jaquet is available on campus as a student consultant for Ulm and environment all around the clock. „This is how we can be of assistance independent from space and time. Especially at semester start, the demand is high.” Most frequently, we are dealing with insurance confirmations which need to be provided for enrolment as well as with questions related to insurance while taking up student jobs.

The TK service day at the University of Ulm takes place in the big cafeteria area opposite the info point of the student union. Michél Jaquet will be available every wednesday between 10 am and 1 pm. Students enrolled at University Ulm and University of Neu-Ulm will have the opportunity to meet him directly on the campus.

Appointments are possible via:

or via email: michel.jaquet@tk.de
Health insurance while you are studying
You have to be insured under a health insurance scheme as a student - either as a dependant covered by your parents’ insurance or by taking out your own health insurance as a student.

We will send you the confirmation of your TK insurance cover. You need that confirmation for registration at university/college or in case of a change of university/college. The university/college needs this confirmation if TK is your new health insurance provider.

Dependants’ insurance during your course of studies
You can continue to be covered by your parents’ non-contributory insurance until you become 25 years of age. Important: Your monthly income may not exceed 435 Euro (in case of a mini-job 450 Euro).

Dependants’ insurance cover beyond the age of 25
Did you commence your studies at a later age or did you interrupt it because you did voluntary military service, federal voluntary service, or another voluntary service (for example a voluntary social year)? Your insurance cover as a dependant can be extended for the duration of that service – but for no longer than one year. You can also be covered by the dependants’ insurance of your spouse or civil partner pursuant to the German Civil Partnership Act.

Your personal health insurance
We would be pleased to continue to insure you with us as a student after the expiry of your dependants’ cover if you give proof of the following requirements:

- You are registered at a state or state accredited university/college.

- You are not full time self-employed.

- You have no other health insurance cover - for example as employee or as recipient of unemployment benefits.

Participants in preparatory courses for studies and guest auditors are not considered to be students.

It is easy to switch to TK if you were covered by dependants’ insurance with another health insurance fund before: Simply submit your application for membership by the end of two weeks after the end of dependants’ insurance.

Of course, you can also switch to TK if you are covered by another health insurance fund. Did you have private health insurance cover until now? You have to take out insurance cover as a student with the commencement of your course of studies. You can be exempt from insurance obligation at the beginning of your course of studies.

You have to pay an additional contribution of 0.25 percent from 23 years of age unless you have a child.

A hint: If you receive BAföG (a loan pursuant to the Federal Training Assistance Act), you can be granted an allowance from the BAföG office.

Payment of your contributions
This can most easily be done by setting up a Direct Debit Mandate with us, which you can cancel at any time. In that case, we will debit your contributions from your account on a monthly basis. Otherwise, you have to pay the contributions for the entire semester in advance.

End of compulsory insurance
Compulsory insurance for students ends with the completion of your course of studies if you deregister or if you finish your 14th academic semester, i.e. with the end of that semester. Compulsory insurance ends with the semester you turn 30 years old at the latest. We will check a possible prolongation of your student insurance cover in the case of some exceptions such as a long-lasting illness or getting a child you had to take care of. This also applies, for instance, if you got the admission requirements for your course of studies in second-chance education. Please contact us in case of such an exception.

Important information for students from abroad
Students from EU countries, who are already insured in their home country, do not have to take out insurance in Germany. You can directly see the doctor with your European Health Insurance Card. Students from other countries have to take out health insurance in Germany.
Student insurance cover while working alongside your studies

Important: Your focus is on your course of studies. Your paid employment is of secondary importance compared to your course of studies. In that case, you continue to pay your contributions to health and long-term care insurance as a student.

Income from that employment is not subject to additional contributions to health, long-term care or unemployment insurance.

Mini-job: Your income may not exceed 450 Euro no matter how many hours you work.
Short-term employment: The employment is limited to three month (70 working days) at the most.
Working students: It does not matter how much you earn as long as you observe the 20 hours rule:
- You do not work more than 20 hours a week during term time. You can work full-time during semester vacation.
- You may work more than 20 hours a week if you work mainly in the evening, at night or on weekends as long as your focus is on your course of studies.

Do you have several jobs?
We will then add them up to check whether you may take out student insurance cover.

Pension insurance
Good to know: You can only be exempted from pension insurance within the scope of a short-term employment.

Sideline self-employment
The same applies here: Your focus is on your course of studies and your self-employment is of secondary importance. In case your work only fulfills part of these criteria, we would like to be of assistance.

Dependants’ insurance: income limits
You have to take out your personal insurance if your regular monthly income exceeds 435 Euro. The income limit in case of a mini-job amounts to 450 Euro.
Total income includes for example:
- Gross income from employment
- Income from self-employment
- Pensions
- Income from letting and leasing
- Capital gain

Your dependants' insurance ends if you exceed the income limit for more than three months within one year. Dependents' insurance is terminated immediately if the exceeding of the income limit is already known at the beginning of an employment. You usually have to pay your contributions to health insurance yourself in that case.

End of compulsory insurance
You can take out insurance cover on favourable terms for another six months after the end of compulsory insurance. That means that you do not have to pay the full contribution for voluntary insurance but a reduced contribution. Since January 2018, you pay 112.87 Euro a month to health insurance (including our additional contribution of 9.14 Euro). You pay 28.42 Euro to long-term care insurance or 25.88 Euro if you are a parent to a child or if you are younger than 23 years of age.

Requirement: You continue to be registered at university/college and your monthly income does not exceed 1,015.00 Euro a month.

5.1 Banking

Account

Germans use a current account (Girokonto) for their daily banking business. The Girokonto allows them to transfer money from one account to another (Überweisung). It allows automatic withdrawals (Abbuchung or Einzugsermächtigung) for paying regular bills such as telephone bills or rent. When opening a Girokonto, you receive an EC card (an electronic cash and debit card) with a PIN, which can be used for cashless payments in supermarkets or department stores. It is also convenient for withdrawing money from ATMs.

Most banks offer students a Girokonto free of fees or charges. Before opening an account, you should inquire if any fees apply and how much they are. They may vary from bank to bank. Some banks charge fees for a Girokonto from their customers who are over the age of 25, regardless of whether they are students or not.

For more information on and a comparison of current accounts, please visit: Link (only in German!)

Cash

Within approximately one week after having opened a bank account, you will receive your EC card and your PIN. With this card it is possible to withdraw money, free of charge, from an ATM of any branch of your bank company in Germany. Ask for partner bank companies whose ATMs you can also use without paying an extra charge. Of course you can also withdraw money from any ATM of other banks, but they usually charge approx. €2.50 – €5.00. Most ATMs worldwide will accept your card, too (maestro symbol). Until you have received your new bank card in Ulm/Neu-Ulm, it is possible to withdraw money at the counter of your branch office.
ACCOUNT STATEMENTS (KONTOAUSZÜGE)
In each bank branch there is a machine, usually located near the ATM, called Kontoauszugsdrucker. As soon as you have received your bank card, you can use it to print out bank statements at your bank. You should do so at least every four weeks to keep track of your balance and to avoid the costs for getting your bank statements sent to you via mail.

CREDIT TRANSFER (ÜBERWEISUNGEN)
Instead of writing cheques, bills are paid by electronic money transfers. Since the Single Euro Payments Area (SEPA)-transfer has been introduced in Europe, you need two numbers in order to transfer money to another account within the European Union: the International Bank Account Number (IBAN) consisting of 22 to 27 figures with numbers and letters and the Bank Identifier Code (BIC), an internationally valid bank sorting code, consisting of 8 to 11 alphanumerical letters. With the IBAN and BIC of the recipient and your own IBAN, you can fill in a money transfer order (Überweisungsauftrag). Most banks also have computer terminals in the customer area which you can use to fill in transfer orders electronically. If you need help, you can always ask your bank staff for assistance. For credit transfers in-between EU-countries, the same conditions apply as for national transfers. Transfers from or to non-European countries work the same way but take longer.

REGULAR PAYMENTS: AUTOMATIC WITHDRAWAL OR STANDING ORDER (EINZUGSERMÄCHTIGUNG UND DAUERAUFTRAG)
For regular expenses such as rent, health insurance, phone bills, etc., you will most likely be required to give permission for an automatic withdrawal (Einzugsermächtigung). You will have to sign this permission along with the respective contract. These companies will then withdraw the amount due from your account every month (usually during the first week of the month).

Attention! It is your responsibility to make sure there is enough money in your account when these sums are being withdrawn! If the withdrawal fails, you will be charged bank fees (usually around €5.00 – €10.00). The withdrawal will not be repeated. Therefore, you will have to fill out a money transfer order amounting to the sum of the failed withdrawal on your own.

A Dauerauftrag is a standing order. This means you order your bank to transfer a fixed amount of money to the same account on a regular basis. Basically, it is the same as an automatic withdrawal, but initiated by you. You have to cancel it if necessary.
ONLINE BANKING / TELEPHONE BANKING

If you want to manage your banking business online or via telephone, ask your bank staff for the respective procedure. Depending on the supported security system, you will receive a telephone PIN and a transaction number (TAN). Each transaction number can only be used once. Online banking is one way to handle transactions with reduced or no fees.

TRAVELERS’ CHEQUES

You should be aware that nearly no German restaurant, hotel or store accepts travelers’ cheques. Instead, you will have to exchange travelers’ cheques for cash at a bank. Please note that many banks charge fees for cashing cheques.

CREDIT CARDS

Mastercard and Visa are accepted in bigger stores and gas stations. Other credit cards are not very common. In general, acceptance of credit cards in Germany is not as widely spread as in other countries. Stores often only accept EC Cards and those sometimes also just for purchases over a certain amount, e.g. €5.00 or €10.00. Credit cards can also be used to obtain cash at ATMs if you have a PIN. Please be aware that credit card companies usually charge high fees for this service.

BANK COMPANIES

You can roughly distinguish between:

- Traditional brick- and mortar institutions:
  - Local bank companies like Sparkassen and Volksbanken (e.g. Sparkasse Ulm, Sparkasse Neu-Ulm/Illertissen, Volksbank Ulm, Volksbank Neu-Ulm). You will find many branches and ATMs of these bank companies in Ulm and Neu-Ulm but none in other cities. As a customer of for example Sparkasse Ulm or Volksbank Ulm, it is possible to withdraw money, free of charge, from an ATM of any other Sparkasse or Volksbank in Germany.
  - National bank companies (Postbank, Commerzbank, Deutsche Bank, Dresdner Bank, HypoVereinsbank). Only a few branches and ATMs of these bank companies are located in Ulm/Neu-Ulm, but you will find their branches all over Germany. These five bank companies form the “Cash Group”. Customers may withdraw money free of charge from an ATM of any branch of these bank companies in Germany.
• Virtual banks are internet based financial institutions, which offer deposit and withdrawal facilities as well as other banking services through ATMs or other devices without having physical (brick and mortar) walk-in premises (e.g. norisbank, comdirekt, Ing-DiBa). Virtual banks are often part of an alliance whose ATMs you can also use free of charge.

5.2 Job Regulations for Students

Regardless of your future status at your university, there will never be a guarantee that you will find a job to support yourself during your studies. You should therefore be aware of the fact that you might have to live off your own personal funds, support from your family or scholarship resources only! Furthermore, in Germany, students who have a contract for work with incomes over €4,860 per year or with monthly incomes over €450 have to pay social contributions. Students have to pay taxes for yearly incomes over €8,354. As soon as a student works more than 20 hours per week for more than 26 weeks per year, they loose their student status regarding the tax and social contributions law.

On-campus work regulations

- Students are allowed to work on campus in a field related to their study programme for a maximum of 85 hours per month at Ulm University, for a maximum of 49 hours per month at Ulm University of Applied Sciences and for a maximum of 19 hours per week at the University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm. The German phrase for this kind of work is “Studentische Hilfskraft”. Most jobs offered at the universities are for advanced students and may require German language skills. At Ulm University of Applied Sciences, Master Students may also be employed as “Wissenschaftliche Hilfskraft”, for a maximum of 42 hours per month.

- Doctoral students (*Doktorand*innen) may be employed on campus as “Wissenschaftliche Hilfskraft”. The amount of working hours is to be set by the supervisor of their doctoral thesis.

- Scholarship holders, who receive their scholarship from a German organisation, should follow the guidelines of their scholarship provider.
OFF-CAMPUS WORK WITHOUT A WORK PERMIT

All EU citizens have unlimited permission to work in Germany. Students from outside the EU without a work permit are allowed to work for a maximum of 120 entire or 240 half days (= 4 hours/day) per academic year. You are not allowed to work more than 20 hours per week during lecture periods, otherwise you will lose your student status regarding health insurance. Therefore and in order to avoid any interference with your studies, it is recommended to work during the holidays. Alumni may search for an adequate employment for up to 18 months after having graduated. In this period, they are allowed to work under the same conditions as students.

OFF-CAMPUS WORK WITH A WORK PERMIT

Degree students who plan to work more than the above given time limits, need a work permit from the Agentur für Arbeit and the Ausländerbehörde. Usually, a work permit is only given to advanced students for work related to their field of study and after presenting a so-called Unbedenklichkeitsbescheinigung (certification of no objection) from your university. This certificate has to confirm that the student has been studying successfully so far and that the university has no objection to them working in a study-related field.

WORK PLACEMENTS/PRACTICAL TERMS (PRAXISSEMESTER)

- Students of Ulm University of Applied Sciences from outside the EU, Norway, Iceland or Liechtenstein will need a special work permit for their practical term. The central coordination centre at the University of Applied Sciences Karlsruhe (KOOR) is in charge of this for all universities of applied sciences in Baden-Württemberg. All required forms and further information can be found here.
- International students of the University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm have to get a special work permit for their practical term from the central coordination centre at the University of Applied Sciences Coburg (KoBy). In this case, please contact anette.stegemann@hs-coburg.de or claudia.martin@hs-coburg.de.

5.3 Living Expenses

Obviously, living expenses mainly depend on your personal lifestyle. However, be aware that living abroad in an unknown environment tends to be more expensive. Taking all aspects of daily life into account, students have to expect expenses of approximately €600 to €700 per month. Please make sure you have enough money to pay for your monthly expenses and have some money put away for unexpected events or emergencies. You cannot count on regular financial support (e.g. through scholarships) during your studies.

Approximate monthly expenses:

- Rent: At the Studierendenwerk Ulm: €228 - €414 monthly, a one time payment of €20.00 service fee and €300 deposit; At the Studentenwerk Augsburg: €268 - €309 monthly and €350 deposit
- Health insurance: Since January 1, 2015, all public health insurance companies demand a so-called supplemental premium, which is set individually by each insurance company. Monthly student rates consist of: health insurance + supplemental premium + long term care insurance. On average, you will need to pay about €90 per month.
- Lunch at mensa: One meal costs about €1.80 - €4.00
- Semester Ticket: €120.00 per semester for public transportation in the region (as of summer term 2018)
- Teaching materials: €30 - €100 per semester for textbooks and equipment
- Studierendenwerk fee: Ulm University: €84.50 per semester, Ulm University of Applied Sciences: €80.50 per semester, University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm: €52.00 per semester plus €29.50 solidarity tax for the semester ticket
5 Finance

- Fee for the constituted student body (Verfasste Studierendenschaft):
  University Ulm: €12.00 per semester, [more information](only in German!)

- Administrative fee of the state of Baden-Württemberg: €70.00 per semester in Ulm and €30.00 for students of Business Information Systems, Industrial Engineering, Industrial Engineering/Logistics and Health Information Management

- Broadcast Services Contribution: €17.50 monthly (for more information please check chapter 8.4, page 51)

- Furthermore: Expenses for clothing, necessary items and leisure time activities

5.4 Tuition Fees

There are no tuition fees in the Free State of Bavaria (University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm). In the federal state of Baden-Württemberg (Ulm University and Ulm University of Applied Sciences), there have been regular fees for new foreign students in bachelor, consecutive master and state examinations programmes of €1,500 per semester since WS 2017/18. EU citizens, exchange students, many refugees and other groups are excluded. There are also second study fees (Zweitstudiengebühren) for people who have already earned a degree in Germany and for certain further master programmes. Zweitstudiengebühren apply irrespective of the student’s nationality. Please inform yourself before the commencement of your studies if you will have to pay tuition fees.

In addition to tuition fees, you will still have to pay the administrative costs and contributions to the Studierendenwerk as well as the contribution to the constituted student body (only in Baden-Württemberg). You will receive bank transfer forms with a payment request with your letter of acceptance or your re-registration for the next semester.

- Discounts are also often offered for concerts, exhibitions, sports and cultural events, as well as at museums, theatres and cinemas. Do not hesitate to ask about student rates and do not forget to bring your student ID!
- Students get a free ride on the solar boat from June to September if they present their student ID.
- You can find information on special rates for newspapers and magazines on the notice boards of the Studenten-Presse and at news stands. Some computer software suppliers offer special rates as well.

Good to know

While you are living in a rented flat, your landlord has the right to visit if the visit is announced beforehand. Other people are only allowed into the flat with the tenant’s consent.
6.2 Private Housing

There are a lot of ways to find private housing in Ulm and Neu-Ulm. However, you should bear in mind that shortly before the semester starts, it will be more difficult to find a room. Therefore, you better start looking in good time.

Most rooms and flats are rented out unfurnished. There are many online services, but most landlords/flatmates want to meet you in person before renting out their flat/room. We also highly recommend to look at a room/flat first (and also talk to the landlord/prospective flatmates in person) before reaching a binding agreement.

PRIVATE FLAT RENTAL - TIPS, TRICKS AND TRAPS

Real estate agents can help you find a place to stay. Since June 1st 2015, German law dictates that real estate agent fees must be covered by the person employing the real estate agent.

But you also have to be careful when searching for a flat: dishonest real estate agents have interested parties sign a contract. You also have to watch out for either overpriced or very low additional costs, as well as excessively high redemption agreements - this way some landlords try to attract prospective tenants or indirectly make them cover the real estate agent fees.
Warning! Additionally, some landlords offering their flats on the Internet insist on a deposit payment prior to an apartment viewing. Do not pay any deposits before you have seen the flat/room, met the landlord in person and have signed the rental agreement.

Bulletin boards
You can find bulletin boards (Schwarze Bretter) all over the universities in Ulm and Neu-Ulm. They display all kinds of advertisements, such as offers for rooms or search requests for flatmates.

Bulletin boards with housing offers:
- Ulm University, Studierendenwerk, Manfred-Börner-Straße 5, Room C 157, 89081 Ulm
- Ulm University, StuVe, M25, Room 224 (bulletin board)

Youth hostels (Jugendherbergen) in Germany are non-profit, small budget hotels, usually with shared bedrooms. To stay in one of these youth hostels in Germany you need to be a member of either the German Youth Hostel Association (Deutsches Jugendherbergswerk, DJH) or Hosteling International (HI).

The annual fee for people under the age of 27 is €7.00, older people pay €22.50. You can apply directly at any youth hostel or online at Link (DJH) or Link (HI).

In other countries, a membership may not be necessary to stay in a hostel. However, it is worth taking a look at the HI homepage and compare their prices with the ones of „normal“ hostels if you plan on travelling around Europe because you might get a discount (10 % per night for example in England) as a member of HI.

In Germany, a normal hostel is called “Hostel“, “Backpacker“ or “Backpacker Hostel“. To stay in those private hostels you do not have to be a member of any of the above mentioned organisations.
7.1 Busses, Trams and Local Trains (DING – SWU)

Ulm und Neu-Ulm have a very well developed public transportation system. The SWU (Stadtwerke Ulm; the company running the municipal bus and tram lines), several companies from the region and the Deutsche Bahn (German Rail) have joined their services to form the DING (Donau Iller Nahverkehrs Gesellschaft). Within the DING area, which reaches out almost 50 km into the surroundings of Ulm, you may use different companies and means of transportation with the same ticket. The DING area is divided into several zones (Waben). The price of a ticket depends on the number of zones you will cross. The whole city area of Ulm and Neu-Ulm forms one zone (Wabe 10/20) with standard prices.

There are also night busses in Ulm, which operate during the nights before Saturdays and Sundays as well as before bank holidays. These night busses are free of charge for students of Ulm University, Ulm University of Applied Sciences and the University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm.

Semester Ticket

The Semester Ticket is valid within the whole DING area for the duration of a full semester. As of summer term 2018, the price is €120.00 per semester. All students of Ulm University, Ulm University of Applied Sciences and the University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm are entitled to buy it.

- Your Semester Ticket is not transferable and only valid in combination with your student ID card.
- Keep the receipt when buying your Semester Ticket. In case you lose it you can then get a new one from the SWU office "traffiti" for a small fee.
It is worth buying a Semester Ticket even if the semester has already started if you use it for at least 2 months.

The Studierendenwerk fee (chapter 5.3), which all students have to pay, includes a solidarity tax for the Semester Ticket (Basic Ticket). This allows students to use their student ID card as a ticket for public transport in the DING area Monday to Friday after 6.00 p.m. and on the whole day on weekends/bank holidays - without having to buy any extra ticket. During these times, you may also take one person with you, who then only has to pay a child's fare. These regulations only apply to the student ID chip card, exchange students may not use their Teilnehmendenausweis for this purpose.

You can buy your Semester Ticket here:

- Ulm University: Info-Point of the Studierendenwerk in the Forum of University South (in front of the Mensa)

Germany features an extensive and modern railway network. As a major railway hub in southern Germany, Ulm has good connections to many destinations in and outside of Germany. Fernzüge (long distance trains: ICE, IC, EC) and Regionalzüge (regional trains: IRE, RE, RB, S) provide regular connections in almost every direction.

There, you will also find many special offers for discounted travelling (keywords: BahnCard, Sparpreis, Baden-Württemberg-Ticket, Bayern-Ticket, Quer-durchs-Land-Ticket, Schönes-Wochenende-Ticket, Sparpreis Europa). If you remember to book a ticket early, it is very often possible to get a savings fare.

If you are travelling within the EU and your train is delayed, you can get a partial refund of your ticket. Should you need to spend the night at a hotel due to delayed/cancelled trains, the train company has to reimburse you for your expenses.

Detailed information on your passenger rights on international and domestic train rides within the EU can be found on the webpage of the European Consumer Centre Germany. If you are travelling with Deutsche Bahn, you can also inform yourself about your passenger rights on their webpage.

7.3. Taxi

Taxis in Germany are rather expensive. However, if you share a taxi with friends who have the same destination, it might be a good bargain for you. A ride from the inner city to Ulm University or to other distant parts of the city will be about €10.00 to €15.00. If you share a taxi with more than 4 people, please order a large-capacity taxi ("Großraumtaxi").

7.4 By Foot

The inner cities of Ulm and Neu-Ulm are quite small and everything can be easily reached by foot. However, the universities (and also some student residences) in Ulm and Neu-Ulm are located on the outskirts of the cities.

7.5 Bicycle

Exploring Ulm by bicycle is easy as there are a lot of bike paths in the city. Especially cycling along the Danube river or the Blau is very popular. But be aware that Ulm University and parts of Ulm University of Applied Sciences are located in higher regions of the city and the altitude difference to the inner city is up to 200 m.

People who have had enough of searching for a parking space and enjoy cycling should take a look at the university’s webpage, where they will find a map of cycling paths in Ulm and its surroundings. In addition, other useful information concerning the usage of public bicycle pumps, bicycle shelters, parking and even shower possibilities at Ulm University can be found there.

For further information and more tips about cycling in and around Ulm, please refer to Link (Ulm University, only in German!) or Link (ADFC Ulm, only in German!).

BICYCLE TRANSPORT

You are allowed to take your bike onto the bus and tram for free from 8.30 a.m. to the end of operating hours from Monday to Friday as well as on the whole day on weekends and public holidays. If you wish to take your bike onto the bus before 8.30 a.m. during the week, you need to buy a Bicycle Day Ticket or an additional ticket for a child for the distance you want to cover. It is allowed to transport up to 2 bikes on the bus.

BICYCLE REPAIR SHOP

Ulm University has a bicycle workshop (Fahrradwerkstatt), where all students can repair their bicycles and can get help and advice from other students. It is located underneath the Mensa of Ulm University, O25.

Opening hours and more information here.

7.6. Carpooling

A Mitfahrgelegenheit is a way of organised traveling with other people, where one offers their car and all travelers share the cost of the trip, which makes the journey for all participants much cheaper. There are plenty of web pages with different priorities offering Mitfahrgelegenheiten. You have to pay for the services of some of them, others are free of charge.

To avoid any misunderstandings during the trip, contact your fellow passengers beforehand to find out how many seats are free or to let them know how many you need, to arrange where to meet and where to drop off and how high the travel expenses will be. It is also useful to exchange names and phone numbers, so you can contact each other in case of any change in plan, problems or delays.

You can minimize the risk of traveling with an unknown person by using websites which offer a rating system for their members and/or verification of their identity by storing a copy of their ID card or the like.

Web pages offering Mitfahrgelegenheiten (mainly in German):
- BlaBlaCar
- BesserMitfahren
- drive2day
- Fahrgemeinschaft

There are professional flight web pages which help air passengers to find a fellow passenger for their flight and some other websites that connect railway travelers with each other.
7.7. Long-Distance Busses

Do you want to travel cheaply by bus? No problem! Since 2013, the network and the amount of long-distance bus providers has increased. They have become an interesting alternative to Deutsche Bahn. Even though the journey might take longer, long-distance busses attract with lower prices for destinations within Germany and abroad. Some intercity bus companies connect large and medium-sized cities daily and make it possible to travel cheaply across Germany. For example, there are tickets for an intercity bus from Ulm to Munich from €8.

The BahnCard is valid on long-distance busses of Deutsche Bahn for destinations within Germany. The owners of BahnCard RAILPLUS get a 25% discount for destinations abroad in 28 European countries.

For current offers and prices of many different intercity bus companies, please refer to Link.

If your bus leaves at least 90 minutes late, the bus company is obliged to offer you snacks and drinks. In case of a delay of more than 120 minutes or a cancellation, the company has to provide an alternative way to reach your destination or offer you a full refund for your ticket. For more information on your passenger rights on international and domestic bus journeys longer than 250 km within the EU, please refer to the information provided by the European Consumer Centre Germany: Link.

8.2 Telephone

All service numbers starting with 0800 can be dialed free of charge. Numbers starting with 0900 are usually high-priced.

Public Telephones

Most of the public phone booths are operated by the Deutsche Telekom (only in German!). You may use cash to pay but a more convenient way of payment are telephone cards, which can be obtained at the “T-Punkt” (Deutsche Telekom Shop) and at the post office. Other public telephones are located in Internet cafés, where international calling rates are often cheaper.

Calling cards (using the 0800 prefix and PIN) are accepted at most telephone booths and offer a cheap alternative for calls abroad. Be sure to inform yourself in advance about the exact rates, conditions and validity among the different calling card providers. Further information: Link (only in German!).

Mobile Phones (called “Handy” in German)

Since most Germans have a mobile phone, public pay-phones have become increasingly rare. The mobile phone network operators in Germany are T-Mobile, Vodafone and Telefónica. These operators have their own shops (T-Mobile is the mobile branch of the Deutsche Telekom, you find them in the “T-Punkt” stores), where you can get further information. Additionally, you can look up rates and rate comparisons (also from discounters) here (only in German!). There are huge differences in prices, rates, services and monthly charges, but generally speaking you can distinguish between:

- Pre-Paid: no contract, no minimum contract period, no minimum monthly turnover
- Contracts: duration of mostly 2 years (cannot be cancelled ahead of time!), sometimes with minimum monthly turnover, but you will receive an inexpensive modern mobile phone

Private Landline

As calling costs via mobile phones or public telephones may be quite expensive, it is recommended to have a landline installed if you plan on staying in Germany for a longer period of time. In Germany, there are currently many options. The standard way is to go with the Deutsche Telekom or “T-Punkt”. When moving into a new flat it is recommended to assume responsibility of the existing telephone line of the previous tenant, as the costs for installing a new line are significantly higher.
Once you have set up a telephone connection with the Deutsche Telekom, it is possible to take advantage of cheaper telephone rates through other contractors by dialing a prefix prior to each call. A list of the current rates from various contractors can be found at Link or Link (both only in German!). The costs for these calls through the contractors will be automatically included in your telephone bill.

Alternatively, you could set up your private landline using certain mobile network operators or TV/cable providers. Please inform yourself about the existing possibilities in your area.

Telephone Directories

- Telephone directories are available online. Here you can access the following directories: “Das Örtliche” (the local phone directory for your city), “Das Telefonbuch” (the national phone directory) and the commercial directory “Gelbe Seiten” (yellow pages).
- National directory assistance by Deutsche Telekom (costs: €1.99 per minute when calling form a German landline, other costs may apply when calling from a mobile phone): 📞 +49 11833 (in German) or 📞 +49 11837 (in English) or 📞 +11836 (in Turkish)
8.3 Internet

All students who are enrolled at one of the three universities in Ulm/Neu-Ulm get their own email address and full access to the computer pools of their university. Most student residences also provide internet access, which is the most convenient and cheapest way to have internet access at home.

You can find further information about computer pools, accounts and WiFi access at the computer centre of your university:

- Ulm University: [Link]
- Ulm University of Applied Sciences: [Link]
- University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm: [Link]

DSL (Digital Subscriber Line)

DSL is available throughout the whole city of Ulm and Neu-Ulm. You will most likely receive the needed DSL-Hardware (WiFi) when signing the contract (be aware of the minimum duration). Monthly costs: €20.00 - €30.00, depending on the provider and bandwidth.

There are also a lot of providers (Telekom, 1&1, O₂, Freenet, Kabel BW, SWU, etc.) offering private landlines and DSL flat rates in a bundle. Please inform yourself on their websites.

You could share your DSL connection with your roommates to decrease your personal costs.

There is free public Internet access for up to 1.5 hours per day during the opening hours of the Ulm Public Library. In order to access it, you need a valid library card. Members of the library who bring their own laptop can use the WiFi connection during the library’s opening hours without limitations.

Ulmer Stadtbibliothek, Vestgasse 1 (next to the city hall Ulm), [Website] (only in German!)
At the computers of the Public Library of Neu-Ulm, you can use their free Internet access for up to 30 minutes. If you bring your own laptop, you can ask the library employees for unlimited WiFi access. Stadtbücherei Neu-Ulm, Heiner-Metzger-Platz 1, Website (only in German!)

8.4 Contribution regarding Broadcast Services

A licence fee is charged to every flat in order to fund the public broadcasting companies. Every household has to pay €17.50 per month - irrespective of whether there are any devices available and/or used in the household.

According to the principle „One flat, one contribution“, only one person of age, regardless of their nationality, has to pay, no matter how many people live in the flat. A flat is defined as any structurally enclosed space unit that is suitable for living or sleeping and is accessible via a staircase, an entrance hall, or from the outside. It is irrelevant whether there is a bathroom and/or a kitchen.

The following are considered as flats:

- Single apartments - even if it is just one room, but accessible from a public hallway or the outside, each tenant has to pay the contribution individually.
- Double apartments (i.e. one front door and separate room doors) - the contribution needs to be paid only once
- Shared flats and residential communities

Since residential communities are considered as a single flat, for every shared flat only one adult has to be registered and pay the contribution. The residential community itself may decide which person pays and among each other there then is an obligation to pay compensation. It does not matter if all roommates have their own lease. If more than one person in the flat is registered to pay the contribution, all but one can (and should!) deregister.

Warning! According to the rental law, the student housing offices (e.g. Studierendenwerk) are not allowed to pay the broadcast contribution and split it proportionately over the rent or operating costs. People who receive social services (e.g. BAFöG) can be exempted from the contribution.
Note! Students who have registered their room at their place of study merely as their secondary place of residence are not exempted from the contribution. The contribution is paid per flat and not per person. If you have several flats, you will have to pay several times.

Warning! Intentional or negligent non-contribution is considered a regulatory offence and is punishable with a fine.

8.5 Mail

In Germany, letters are mainly delivered by Deutsche Post, parcels also by other companies (DHL, UPS, GLS, Hermes, etc.).

Website of Deutsche Post: (only in German!)

PACKSTATION

If you send and/or receive packages regularly, it is recommended to use a DHL parcel station (Packstation). This service is free of charge and independent from opening hours. The usage of these stations has become widespread in Germany and offers the convenience of informing the recipient via email or text message when their shipment has arrived.

8.6 Health Care

Seeing a Doctor or a Dentist

- In many countries, it is customary to first go to the ambulance at a hospital if you get ill. In Germany, you only go to the ambulance in case of emergencies (chapter 11) or at night/on the weekends, when the doctors’ offices are closed.
- Everybody should have a general practitioner. You should find one for yourself before you get ill. Doctors usually have large signs outside their offices, look around in your neighbourhood. You could also check on the Internet, e.g. [Link](only in German!), or in the yellow pages. However, the best way to find a GP is probably by recommendation from friends or neighbours.
- The dental clinic of Ulm University offers a wide range of dental treatments. A special offer is the student treatment course, in which the treatments are carried out inexpensively by students under the supervision of licensed dentists.
  ☏ +49 (0)731/500 64110, [Website](only in German!)
- In order to treat patients of public health insurance companies, doctors need to have a contract with those companies. On their signs it usually says “Alle Kassen”. If it says “Privatpraxis”, clients of public health insurance companies will be treated like private patients, i.e. they have to pay their bills themselves, but will only get a small part refunded by their respective insurance company.
- Please bring your health insurance card or EHIC with you every time you go to see a doctor or dentist.
- For in-hospital treatments, you have to make a co-payment of €10.00 a day, but for at most 28 days per year.

Medication

- You can get all medically required drugs from dispensing pharmacies (Apotheke) in Germany. They are often located in the neighbourhood of GPs.
- The co-payment for prescribed drugs is €5.00 to €10.00 in most cases.
8.7 Rubbish – Avoidance, Separation and Recycling

In Germany, people are in general very environmentally aware and therefore try to avoid wasting resources and polluting the environment. Rubbish is being separated strictly and recycled if possible.

Deposit for Beverages

Besides the normal system of returnable bottles (glas and plastic) for beverages, you also have to pay a deposit for a lot of disposable bottles (Einwegflaschen) and cans in order to motivate people to return them. Depending on the type of beverage and filling capacity you may or may not have to pay a deposit. You usually do not have to pay one for juice bottles, for water and soft drinks like coke you almost always have to pay a deposit. Look out for the logo of the Deutsche Pfandsystem GmbH. If you find this emblem on a bottle or can, you will have to pay a deposit of up to €0.25. However, you will not find this emblem on every bottle that you have to pay a deposit for. If you do not have to pay a deposit, it will say so on the bottle’s label.

Empty bottles and cans can always be returned at the store you bought them at and at bigger shops selling these types of disposable bottles or cans. Take care not to damage the bottles and cans and especially do not remove the label containing the barcode, otherwise you might have problems returning them!

Sorting and Recycling Waste

As the rules for recycling are imposed by local authorities, the system can differ from town to town. In Ulm/Neu-Ulm, the following rules apply:

- Gelber Sack and Gelbe Tonne (for potentially recyclable rubbish)
  For all “light“ plastic and metallic packing materials, such as yoghurt cups, plastic bags, styrofoam, milk and juice packs, cans, spray cans that are not mentioned somewhere else. In most cases, they carry the symbol “Der Grüne Punkt”. Make sure everything is completely empty. You can get yellow (plastic) bags at the recycling stations or at the Bürgerbüro in Ulm or Neu-Ulm (chapter 4).

- Glass (glass containers in your neighbourhood)
  For clean glass bottles (the ones that are not returnable) etc., but no light bulbs, mirrors or window panes.
• Paper and cardboards (blue bin)
  For all kinds of paper, e.g. newspapers, magazines, cardboard and packaging material. Clean paper only – no coated paper (from milk or juice packs) or tissues.

• Biotonne (brown bin, Biomüll)
  For biodegradable waste like food waste, coffee filters, tea bags, plants, etc

• Restmüll (black bin, Restmüll)
  For all other kinds of waste. But keep in mind that there are relatively high fees for the disposal of Restmüll, whereas all other kinds of waste (except Biomüll) can be disposed free of charge.

• Recyclinghöfe for bulky or hazardous waste and electronic devices
  There are recycling stations (Recyclinghof) all over the city, where you may deposit all kinds of hazardous waste (e.g. batteries, paints, oil), bulky waste (e.g. furniture, carpets, wood, window panes) and also old electronic devices. You may also bring all other types of waste (except Biomüll). You will need a car to access these recycling stations.

Ask your roommates how the rubbish separation works in your dorm or your particular shared flat.

Since 1662, the “Fischerstechen”, a kind of knight’s tournament on the Danube, has been taking place every four years on two dates. At about 11 a.m. on Schwörmontag, the mayor of the City of Ulm swears to serve the people of Ulm from a balcony in the Weinhof. In the afternoon, after the mayor’s historical speech, the “Nabada” takes place. This resembles a carneval procession in which everyone may participate. Many parties and concerts around the city invite to celebrate until late at night. Numerous businesses and offices are closed in the afternoon of Schörmontag.

10.3 Student Initiatives

Studentenvertretung (StuVe) / Verfasste Studierendenschaft (VS)

The StuVe/VS forms the “student government” of a university in Germany, offering support and help as well as representing the interests of all students. The implementation and the offered services of the StuVe/VS can vary from university to university (even the name can be different). Duties of the StuVe/VS include but are not restricted to the active shaping of the semester ticket policies, organising events, offering advice for students concerning financial matters and participation in many committees of the university, which decide on the use of funds, examination regulations, etc.

Basically, the StuVe/VS is always looking for dedicated students in order to maintain their big variety of services. The interests of all students can only be represented with the help of many diverse students. Are you interested? Please contact the StuVe/VS at your university directly:

- Ulm University: Website of the students’ council (StuVe) of Ulm University
- Ulm University of Applied Sciences: Website of the students’ council (only in German!)
- University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm: Website of the students’ union

Student representative bodies (Fachschichten)

All students of a faculty form the Fachschaft. However, the phrase Fachschaft more often refers to the students who are actively involved in the work of the Fachschaftsbüro (office). The Fachschaft helps students of their faculty with questions concerning exams and also represents the students’ interests within the faculty. Interested students are always welcome!
