

The Institute of Mathematical Finance at the Faculty of Mathematics and Economics of Ulm University invites applications for one non-permanent position as a starting October 1st 2013, according to the rules of the German law for non-permanent scientific positions (Wissenschaftszeitvertragsgesetz; initial contract until March 31st, 2015).

Prerequisite is a very good master degree in a mathematical field of study or a comparable degree, and interest in future research in at least one of the areas Statistics of Stochastic Processes, Stochastic Analysis, Stochastic Processes, Financial Mathematics or Financial Econometrics. The opportunity for further scientific qualification (Habilitation/PhD) is given.

The duties include contributing to the teaching activities of the institute. For a full position the teaching duty is four hours per week during the teaching period. The language of the courses is usually English. Thus no knowledge of German is initially necessary. Candidates with a completed PhD are going to be employed on a full position, otherwise candidates will be employed on a partial position according to individual agreement. If interested in participating in the DFG-funded project "Statistics of Lévy-driven Processes", the teaching duties can be reduced to two hours per week during the teaching period in the case of an already completed PhD.

The University of Ulm is committed to increase the share of women in research and teaching positions and therefore explicitly encourages female candidates to apply.

Please send your application with the usual documents until June 30th, 2013, the preferably in electronic form to:
