

Seminar: Stochastic Differential Equations and Applications

Requirements

- The first meeting with the advisor takes place about three weeks before the talk and is mandatory. Please make an appointment via e-mail and bring an outline of what you are planning to include in your talk.
- The slides must be sent to the advisor one week ahead of your talk.
- If one of these two deadlines is missed, the seminar will be regarded as failed.
- Your talk should last about 60 minutes (plus time for questions).
- A well-structured handout of (at most) two pages accompanying the talk has to be prepared and copies for all participants have to be brought along.
- Additional literature has to be used to round off the topic if necessary.
- The topic has to be prepared well and the facts should be presented clearly in the talk. Some proofs have to be included.
- Attendance is mandatory!
