For better orientation, you can use the online classroom and lecture hall finder.

If you would like to use the pick-up service, please send your arrival details to mscfinance@uni-ulm.de as early as possible.

Please bring your passport, your admission notification and all other documents mentioned on the admission notification as well as a passport photo.

Please note that you must present documents, such as your diploma, in the original.

Interdisciplinary first semester introduction. You can meet other first-year students from different programs. Various events will take place from October 7 to 9.

Some events may be held in German, but don't let that stop you from participating. Other international students are taking part, too.

Helpful information on city registration, residency permits and much more will be presented by the International Office.

Representatives from the International Office, the Studierendenwerk Ulm, the Language Center and ASSIST are available to answer any questions you may have.

You will receive a separate invitation for this event.

The president and dean welcome new students to Ulm University (most likely only in German only).

Blue highlights MSc Finance specific events, green events organized by the student council, yellow events organized by the International Office and orange indicates cross-curricular general events.
If necessary, more information on the individual events will be provided separately.
