

The Faculty of Natural Sciences of Ulm University (Ulm, Germany) invites applications for a

Full Professorship in Molecular Botany (W3)

- subject to the approval of the Ministry of Science, Research and the Arts - to be appointed as permanent faculty member (W30L) within the Institute of Molecular Botany.

The position is available for immediate appointment.

The research focus of the Institute of Molecular Botany is at the interface of plant biology and research on microorganisms. We seek an internationally leading scientist with expertise in the area of plant-microbiome research including studies of symbiotic and pathogenic plant-microorganism interactions. The appointment includes teaching responsibilities in German and English. For further information please go to: <https://www.uni-ulm.de/einrichtungen/zuv/dezernat-3/abt-iii-1-personal-service/stellenangebote-hochschullehrer-in/>

Please submit applications by August 31st, 2018.
Please indicate reference number 80 in the subject line.

